

Organizational Core Values

We believe that Christian principles are the foundation for operating Claudy's House. We believe that Christian principles will guide and support our practice and will lead to effective client relationships and success. We believe that all people should be treated with respect and dignity. We believe that the spirit of service is essential to the improvement of community and self-worth and embodies the qualities of understanding, sympathy, concern and compassion. We believe that integrity is paramount to the success of Claudy's House. Honesty, openness, trust and transparency are the hallmarks of our organization. We believe that as public servants, we must demonstrate accountability and stewardship at all times. We believe that Claudy's House will operate with professionalism and excellence.